Insights from the Gospel of the Twin...

Wed 4th to Wed 11th July 2018

“As the years have passed since the discovery of the Gospel of Thomas among the manuscripts of the Nag Hammadi Library, it has become increasingly clear just how important this Coptic version of the Gospel is to our understanding of the Jesus tradition and early Christianity” so writes Lynn C. Bauman in his preface to the second edition of his translation of the Gospel.

This retreat invites you to engage prayerfully with the ‘sayings’ preserved in this remarkable text, appreciate the deep resonances with familiar gospel passages, and discover new insights into the impact of Jesus’ teaching for seekers, of ages past, and today.

I will invite each of you to be as scribes ‘trained for the kingdom of heaven’ and bring out of your treasure ‘what is new and what is old’ (Matthew 13.52) as we prayerfully engage this Gospel, in the company of the Christ within, and the faith that makes all things new.
